▪ USE OF THE WEBSITE

We pay a lot of attention to our Website. In spite of these efforts, we cannot guarantee that the information contained on the Website is completely accurate, precise and up to date. These data can therefore be used solely for general information purposes. Neither can we be held liable for direct or indirect damages arising from the use of the Website, or based on information made available through the Website. The Website may contain third party files or hyperlinks, or other references to third party websites. Our Company bears no liability whatsoever for this. We also reserve the right to modify, change or supplement the contents of the Website at any time.

▪ INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

The use of the Website does not grant the user any intellectual property right whatsoever. The contents of the Website, and the information that is made available, are the exclusive property of the Company. The information that can be consulted on the Website, the design, the texts, drawings, photographs, data, logos, brands and other elements displayed, are protected by trademark law and/or copyright and/or other applicable requirements, and may not be reproduced in whatever form or with whatever tool. Any infringement will constitute a reason for prosecution.

▪ PROTECTION OF PERSONAL DATA

Our Company takes its obligations regarding privacy and data protection seriously. For more information, you can consult our Data Protection Policy on the Website.

▪ COOKIES

The Website may use cookies, which enable information to be stored to simplify the use of the Website. You can manage and/or disable the use of cookies in your browser. However, disabling them will slow down your visit. It may also be necessary to accept the use of cookies in order to reach the parts of the Website that require user identification.

▪ BELGIAN LAW

Your access or visit to and use of the Website and these conditions of use are governed by Belgian law. In the event of a dispute, the courts of the registered office of the Company are solely competent.
